SOME SMOKE.

For some time the air has been filled with rumors of mismanagement at the mint in Carson. It has been said that the bullion was stolen and sold and replaced by alloy. We publish in another column the tests which are used to guard against such practices. If the gold were stolen and alloy put in its place, the sample coins would show it when examined at Washington. It has been said that silver was borrowed to make good a defect at the annual examination a year ago. At that settlement it was reported that the officers only used one-tenth of the waste which the law allows them. If they borrowed money to fill in, they borrowed more than they needed. Other charges are rather flimsy and mostly hearsay. We understand that the Mint Director is on his way out, and he will most likely make an examination with a view to the charges of the discharged employees, and if there is anything wrong, a Republican administration will, no doubt, send the guilty parties up. One thing that goes against the probability of their truth is that so many men must be in the steal and they have been going on for so many years that it would have been very hard to keep.

WHY OF COURSE.

It is well known that all the railroads have a big barrel of twenty dollar pieces in a corner of their office, where any newspaper or politician, who are willing to sell out, may go and help themselves. This is proved by the fact that all the newspapers which oppose the railroads are edited and run by high-toned patriots and honest men who were never known to sell a vote or cheat anybody. The Virginia Chronicle, half in fun and a little in earnest probably, hits off this belief as follows:

Hon. C. C. Powning of Reno is credited with the intention of starting a newspaper at Salt Lake City. The Carson Index thought of the same political faith as Mr. Powning, says of the alleged new journal: "It will inevitably be in opposition to the attitude which has always been maintained by the Salt Lake Tribune. The railroad people are not fond of the Tribune, and will back any Gentile journalistic enterprise that will oppose it. Stanford & Co. will very naturally support Powning for that reason." While this is a reflection on young Mr. Powning as a tried friend of the people, it is still possible that a million dollars or so may have seduced him from the popular cause. It is easy to believe that Stanford & Co. would willingly spend any amount of money to have in Salt Lake a powerful newspaper like the Reno Journal in their interest. Young Mr. Powning's powerful, learned and brilliant pen has made him famous, and it would be small wonder if the monopolists should seek to enlist it in their service.

MAKING HAY.

An Ohio correspondent to the Country Gentleman advises that the first crop of hay be cut early. He says: I can put as many pounds of flesh on a certain number of steers in winter, in a warm barn, with the early-cut hay from a ten-acre lot, as those same steers would have put on had they run in the lot and eaten the grass as it grew. Whatever else you may do, make up your minds to cut a part of your hay, at least, early this year, and cure it nicely; watch the relish with which your horses and cattle will eat it next winter and the effect it will have on them, and you will never go back to the old way any more than you would exchange your mowing machine for a scythe, or the self-binder for the cradle. If the weather is good cut early, and let the rest of the strength go to the next crop. The great point in haying is to have the nerve to cut largely just at the beginning of fair weather.

The charge of two bits for the Enterprise made by the boy on the V. & T. trains is an imposition on the public. It is too high for the times.

The Eureka Sentinel says Judge W. A. Davenport of Eureka is mentioned for the office of Attorney-General of this State on the Republican ticket.

TO-DAY'S NEWS

Press Dispatches to EVENING GAZETTE.

EASTERN.

Lieutenant Commander Gorrings's Views.

CHICAGO, July 14.
A Times special at New York says: Lieutenant-Commander Gorrings, who spent over eight months in Alexandria preparing to move the obelisk, has been interviewed by the World. He thinks the bombardment a brutal and unjustifiable act, that the British Government wanted a pretext for war on the national party in Egypt to get control of the Suez canal. England, he says, will have no difficulty in subduing the Egyptian army in a short time after hostilities on land begin unless the Admirals and Generals should continue to make such mistakes as have been made by Admiral Seymour. "I cannot conceive," says he, "how it was possible for him to let Arabi Bey and the Egyptian army escape from Alexandria as he did. That army could not have escaped from the fortifications without exposing them selves to the guns of the British fleet in such a way as to insure their own destruction if any attempt had been made to destroy them. He said: 'It will doubtless take millions of pounds to repair the damage to the fortifications. The English quarter and the Levantine Christian section, which is larger than the other two together, are composed largely of fine city blocks, and the losses from the conflagration must be tremendous.'"

Assuming a Virtue.

CINCINNATI, July 15.
Saloon keepers believing the Sunday liquor law a dead letter on account of the recent Police Court proceedings advise that in view of the feeling of a large class of citizens the saloons keep their doors closed and conduct business quietly on Sundays.

A Drunkard's Death.

ST. LOUIS, July 15.
Alfred H. Pense, a well-known Boston pianist, died on the streets of congestion of the brain, brought on by hard drinking. He had been hiding from his friends for some weeks.

FOREIGN.

The Khedive Loose.

ON BOARD THE INVINCIBLE, ALEXANDRIA, July 14-7 P. M.
The Khedive's arrival caused lively satisfaction, for a way is now opened out of the deadlock which before prevailed. It is at his request that our marines are on shore patrolling the streets trying to stop the terrible chaos which has existed for three days. Streets upon streets have been burned. Many more Christians in hiding have escaped, and stories are all of the same kind—murder and robbery. The first intimation that the Khedive was alive was given by three officers who came from Ramleh to ask that assistance be sent to the Khedive, whose palace was surrounded by Arab troops, which nominally came as his guards. In the evening proclamations were issued in the name of the Khedive ordering the soldiers to leave their regiments and go back to their native villages. From friendly natives the Admiral obtained information that the main body of Arabi's army has gone to Damanhow, 15 miles away, where strong works have been erected. All reports concerning Arabi must be received with caution.

Affairs in Alexandria.

LONDON, July 15.
The Times says: Thirteen hundred Christian refugees were saved in a Coptic church during the massacre. Fires in town were undoubtedly directly instigated by the principal supporters of Arabi Pasha, it not by himself. After looting commenced the soldiers attacked the original plunderers and robbed them of their prey. Arabi Pasha, during the engagement, was at Fort Napoleon, which neither fired nor received a shot. After the firing had ceased he rode through the town, accompanied by Mahomed Sami and other Ministers. Subsequently, part of the soldiers deliberately set fire to the French Consulate. Another party proceeded in the same systematic manner to set fire to the other side of the great square. The whole district is so burned that even the street openings are undistinguishable.

France is Willing.

LONDON, July 15.
It is stated that the Duke of Connaught will take command of the brigade of guards in Egypt. The Daily News believes that the growing feeling among the powers is that the time for Turkish intervention has passed and that the work will be sufficiently done by the English and French occupation. Within the past two days France has shown an increasing disposition to undertake a joint occupation it invited to do so by the powers.

Foreign Gossip—John Bright Resigns. LONDON, July 15.

The War Office has ordered a sufficient number of entrenching tools sent to Egypt for the first body of English regulars in that land. In regard to the reported approach of a bombardment by Germany and Austria, Sir Chas. Dilke admitted there had been no written communications expressing their approach, but he gave it to be understood that verbal communications from the German and Austrian ambassadors had justified the Minister making the statement. The action of the fleet was approved by the German powers. John Bright has resigned in consequence of the bombardment of Alexandria. His speeches in favor of coercion were severely criticized.

The British Rifle Team, to take part in the international shooting match at Creedmoor, will sail for New York on the steamer Alaska on the 24th of August. They will take up quarters at the Garden City Hotel, Long Island. The scores so far made by the team are no criterion of their strength, as none of the men will use the Martini rifle, but most of them will shoot with the Metford rifle.

War Notes.

ALEXANDRIA, July 15—3 P. M.
There have been three heavy explosions on the shore since noon. The Constantinople conference today discussed the terms of the note to be addressed to the Porte, demanding a dispatch of Turkish troops to Egypt.

ALEXANDRIA, July 14.
The English Consulate and quarters containing the great grain and cotton stores are not burned. No telegraphic communication with the interior.

Going into the Town.

LONDON, July 15.
Admiral Seymour telegraphed at 11 o'clock last night that the fire in Alexandria was not spreading. Nearly all sacking had stopped. A force of Germans had landed to protect the hospital, and a party of Americans to establish a consulate. The ironclad Minotaur has arrived.

Quieting Down.

ALEXANDRIA, July 15.
It is now possible to walk the streets without an escort. Cafes and shops are reopening and confidence is generally reviving. Admiral Seymour telegraphs at 13 o'clock this morning: "I am organizing a police force as fast as possible, and I have occupied the gates and two forts."

Honest John Bright.

LONDON, July 15.
The Times says whatever conclusions Bright may form in regard to his duty in this great crisis will be treated with respect, but we hope no divergence of opinion will definitely under him from the men with whom he has so long been associated.

An After-Consideration.

LONDON, July 15.
In the House of Commons this afternoon, Sir Charles Dilke in reply to the question whether steps would be taken to intercept Arabi Pasha on the road, said: "Our proceedings relate to Alexandria. The other matter is for the Powers to take action upon."

Where Did They Come From?

LONDON, July 15.
In the House of Commons today Dilke, Under Foreign Secretary, read a telegram stating that American marines were assisting in patrolling the streets of Alexandria.

Wiped Them Out.

ALEXANDRIA, July 15.
The bombardment of Tuesday nearly exterminated the Egyptian corps of artillery-men, which was the best branch of the army.

Not Contagious.

LONDON, July 15.
The Pall-Mall Gazette says Bright's resignation is not likely to be followed by any of his colleagues.

WESTERN.

ANTI-DEBRIS CONVENTION.

A Political Move in a New Direction. SACRAMENTO, July 15.
Today the executive committee of the Anti-Debris association met in this city. The reports of J. C. Pierson and L. F. Bassett, surveyors, were received, read and ordered on file. The reports were relative to hydraulic mines that dumped into the North Fork of the American river; also to mines in other sections that had been operated during the past season. The report showed that hydraulic mining during the past season had been largely suspended all along the line, and that the general inclination was to turn their hydraulic into drift mines. It was moved and carried that a call be issued for a convention of 203 delegates, to be held in Sacramento on the 26th of September. Delegates are to be appointed as follows: Sacramento county, 25; San Joaquin, 25; Yuba, 25; Yolo, 25; Butte, 25; Sutter, 25; Colusa, 25; Solano, 10; Tehama, 10, and certain districts in Placer 10. The Supervisors of the several counties are to be ex-officio members of the convention. The delegates to this convention are to be appointed by the board of Supervisors of the several counties. The object of this convention is to make a ticket from other tickets in the field that will be friendly to the Anti-Debris movement. The Committee adjourned to meet to-morrow.

FROM DIXON.

Crop Prospects in Sierra Valley—A Good Wheat Crop in Yolo—The Lakes.

EDITOR GAZETTE:—I have just returned from a visit to Sierra Valley. I never saw the hay and grain looking better in the valley than it does now. Grasshoppers are destroying a few ranches in Adam's Neck and upon the Island, but with this exception everything looks promising. The ranchers and others about Loyaltown and Sierra-ville are in good spirits so far concerning the hay and grain prospects.

There has been a large number of deaths (for Sierra Valley) during the last seven months, but from what I could learn, the new physician, Dr. Barrett, is not to blame, as in most of cases he was not called in until it was too late for medical skill to be of any service.

THE LAKES.

Tahoe, Webber and Independence lakes are well patronized this season, and the fishing is "fair to middling." Tahoe is doing more than her usual share of business this year, which shows that the scenery, cool and healthy climate around one of the most beautiful lakes on the globe is being appreciated by pleasure-seekers who love the beautiful in a cool and high altitude.

THE SNOW LOOKS COOL.

From Dixon, with the thermometer near 100 degrees for a week at a time.

The harvest is turning out better here than we expected; some fields are yielding 50 bushels of wheat to the acre. In a few years more wine-raising and canned fruits will be the business of the greater portion of the Sacramento valley, as well as the smaller valleys in the foot hills of the Sierra Nevada and Coast Range mountains. Land in this valley that will raise grapes and fruit is worth $100 per acre. DR. MAURICE PRITCHARD. DIXON, Cal., July 14, 1882.

State Fair Matters.

The Trustees of the N. S. A. M. and M. Society held a meeting yesterday and decided to go ahead with the Fair in good earnest. All they want now is proper encouragement from the citizens. Secretary Roff has about $1,200 subscribed, but in order to make a success in every department it will be necessary to raise about $600 or $800 more. The Pavilion, as well as the track, will be made a grand feature of the week's sport. If the citizens of Reno are alive to their own interest they will make up the amount the Trustees require to go on intelligently with the work. The Fair is more help, directly and indirectly, to Reno than any other thing. Let the citizens stand in and do their duty by helping the society and at the same time help themselves.

Assumed Charge.

Agent Mayhugh has taken charge of the Duck Valley Indian Reservation. When he arrived at the Agency there where only about seventy Indians, which number has been augmented to some 200. A grand pow-wow was held a few days ago, at which all present expressed themselves satisfied with the new order of things. About seventy-five or eighty acres were sown to wheat, which bids fair to yield well.

K. of P. Installation.

The following officers were installed Friday, July 14th, to serve Amity Lodge No. 8, K. of P., for the ensuing term by N. W. Roff, District Deputy: Jas. T. Davis, P. C.; H. J. Thyes, C. C.; J. F. Aitken, V. C.; N. W. Roff, P.; Chas. H. Stoddard, K. of R. and S.; John A. McIntosh, M. of F.; Donald McKay, M. of E.; Liale Jamison, J. G.; R. S. Osburn, M. at A.; F. Teasland, O. G., and R. S. Osburn, Trustee.

Fingers Sawed Off.

This morning, about 4 o'clock, W. P. Burns, while tending the saw at Lonkey & Smith's box factory at Camp 16, got his left hand in the teeth, which cut his fingers up very badly. He came here on the passenger train and Dr. Bergman cut all four fingers off. Mr. Burns is a Virginia City boy and worked at Verdi for some time before the fire.

A Lost Member.

Frank Perkins was above the dam on the river Thursday, and when on his way back his dog found a sack containing the right hand of a human being, in an advanced state of decomposition. The supposition is that it had been amputated by some physician and thrown away. Such things ought to be buried.

METHODS AT THE MINT.

How Errors and Irregularities are Guarded Against.

So much has been said about the Mint, and so little seems to be known by the general public as to the means employed to protect the large quantities of precious metals that go through it from careless or dishonest hands, that the GAZETTE has taken the pains to trace the bullion through the Mint from the time the bar reaches the counter till the dollar goes out the door.

WHEN BULLION IS DEPOSITED, Or delivered at the Mint, it is weighed by the weigh clerk in the presence of the depositor or his agent, and the weight is verified by the register of deposits. The weigh-clerk and the register of deposits then enter in their respective books the name of the depositor, the number and date of each deposit, kind of bullion, weight before melting, and, if it can be ascertained, the State or county from whence it is derived. If the bullion consists of stamped bars, the name of the refinery, smelting works or assay office manufacturing the same, and if of foreign coins, the country where it is coined is stated. The deposit, after being weighed, is then placed in a self-locking box and carried from the weigh-room to the deposit melting-room, and it is there melted and then brought back in the self-locking box to the weigh room to be reweighed. The reweighing is made by the persons before mentioned and careful entries thereof made in the weigh-clerk's book. The register of deposits then enters the loss in weight in melting and his book is submitted weekly to the melter and refiner, who carefully examines and notes on the same whether the difference in the weights before and after melting is usual and ordinary, and fairly resulting from the nature of the deposit in each case.

The book is then submitted to the superintendent for examination and at the end of the quarter is forwarded to the Director of the Mint at Washington. If the gold bullion deposited contains a considerable quantity of silver, it is so noted in the weigh-books, and so also in the reverse case, and entered in the gold and silver weigh-book according as the gold or silver appears to exceed in weight. In order to further insure the safety of the bullion in the weigh-room and deposit melting-room, and while in transit between the two rooms, all persons not employed therein are excluded therefrom, and the transfer of the locked boxes containing the bullion between the two rooms is intrusted only to such employees as are designated for that purpose by the superintendent.

THE MELTER AND REFINER.

Supervises and directs the mode of melting all the bullion, and he is charged by the Superintendent with the weight after melting, which is the same the depositor is credited with. The Superintendent and the melter and refiner, when necessary, call upon the assayer before and during the operations of melting, to make any examination necessary. The Superintendent gives a receipt for the weight before melting, which with the certificate of the net value of the deposit, will be surrendered by the depositor when he calls for payment. If the depositor transfers his receipt, he must endorse it before doing so. As soon as the weight after melting is ascertained, the weight clerk transcribes the date of the deposit, name of the depositor, description of the bullion, and weight after melting, upon a blank called the assayer's report, which is taken to the assayer, and the Superintendent delivers to the assayer from each parcel of bullion, a sufficient portion to be assayed, which shall be returned to the Superintendent. The assayer then inserts in the report the fineness of the bullion in gold and silver, and the charges to which the deposit is subject, and returns the report to the Superintendent. From the weight of the bullion after melting, and the report of the assayer as to fineness, the value of each deposit or amount of charges is computed by the two computation clerks, and a detailed memorandum therefor, goes to the depositor by the Superintendent, or one of his clerks. The Superintendent at the same time gives under his hand, a certificate of the net value of the deposit, specifying the amount and mode of payment. The correctness of the certificate is verified by the assayer, who countersigns the same, and the necessary computations for verification are made in his office by a clerk under his control. The fineness reported by the assayer, and the weight of gold and silver contained in the deposit, are then entered by the weight clerk and the register of deposit in their respective books, and furnished to the melter and refiner. The melter and refiner then weighs each deposit separately, and in order that discrepancies, if any, may be ascertained and corrected after adding in the weights returned by the assayer, will ascertain whether the weights of the gold and silver contained in the deposit agree with the weight furnished him by the Superintendent. In every case of

Life on the Comstock.

A horse harnessed to a buckboard started on a run down C street in Virginia yesterday, and as it passed Denlinger's store the shafts of the buckboard caught up a chicken coop on the sidewalk and carried it along up the street, much to the amazement of about thirty hens and one indignant rooster who were in the cage. The horse was stopped at the corner of Taylor street, but not until all the chickens, headed by the rooster, had escaped. The Chronicle says the street presented a lively appearance for a few minutes, every one joining in the capture of the cackling tows.

Another Crank.

Sheriff Hanks came down from Virginia last evening, having John Bogley, a crank, in charge. He delivered his man to the Asylum. Bogley has been an inmate of the Storey County Hospital for six years. It will be quite a relief to the county to allow the State to keep him the balance of the time. His madness is of an exceedingly mild type.

Church Notices.

Rev. A. B. Palmer will officiate at the Congregational Church at 11 o'clock A. M.; but there will be no service in the evening. This church joining with the Baptist and Methodist Churches in a union service at the Methodist Church at 7:45 in the evening. Sunday school at 12:30. A cordial welcome to all.

representatives, attend at the weighing, and three accounts are taken of the weight at the time, and entries of these deliveries are made in their books. The melter and refiner is charged with the standard weight of deposits after their quality has been reported by the assayer, and with the actual weight of the clippings, which are always presumed to be of standard fineness. The assayer's reports of approved ingots are kept on file by the Superintendent. The ingots having been approved, the Superintendent, melter and refiner, and coiner, or their representatives, attend at the weighing and three accounts of the weights are taken at the time, and the delivery to the Superintendent by the melter and refiner is simultaneous with the delivery by the Superintendent to the coiner. The coiner then causes the ingots to be rolled, annealed and planished cut therefrom, which, after being cleaned, adjusted and milled, are placed in the coining press, there to receive the impressions; after which they are weighed and delivered to the Superintendent—the gold in drafts of $20,000 each, and the silver dollars in drafts of $1,000 each.

Must be within the legal tolerance, and two accounts of the weights are taken by the Superintendent and the coiner at the time and entered in their books. When a delivery of coins is made by the coiner to the Superintendent, the latter, by a trial of a number of single pieces, separated, satisfies himself that the coins are within the legal limit of the standard weight, and if these trials prove satisfactory the delivery is made, and if not satisfactory all the coins are weighed separately, and such as are not of legal weight are separated and delivered to the melter and refiner as standard bullion, and are remelted into ingots. After the superintendent's trials are made the assay pieces are taken and carefully sealed up. The superintendent and assayer then go to each sack of coin and take out one piece. These pieces are sealed up along with the assay pieces in an envelope, on which the date of delivery, the number and denomination of the pieces enclosed, and the amount of the delivery from which they are taken, are endorsed. The sealed parcels are then deposited in a package designated for that purpose, and which is kept under the joint care of the superintendent and assayer, and is so secured that neither can have access to its contents without the presence of the other. The reserved pieces in this sealed envelope are quarterly transmitted to the Philadelphia Mint, where they are carefully preserved for delivery to the annual assay commission.

UNCLE BEN JO'S

GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN PA ACEA.

UNCLE BEN JO was born in Boston in 1800. Being a botanist, he effected many wonderful cures with roots and herbs. In 1844 he went to South America to study botany, and while there accidentally made his great discovery. The natives of this country were quite familiar with it, and had always supposed it to be a poisonous herb, which they used for the sole purpose of keeping snakes away from their tents or houses. This they did by laying it in a circle about the same as a porcupine does. This herb, Uncle J., as well as the natives, considered a very obnoxious and poisonous one, and when green and fresh it threw off a very distasteful and repulsive odor. The herb grows about two feet high, and the branches of the top part of its stalk is leafless, and this part loops over and hangs downward perpendicularly, and from its curved neck to the end it increases in size, and on the end of the same is a large, bumpy looking ball, which stalk and ball, in this hanging position, looks precisely like the tongue of a bell. Hence Uncle J. named it the Bell Tongue Plant. In South America this herb is only found in the extreme interior of the country, and the natives there call it "Zar Zar." It is a wonderful cure of kidney and liver diseases, also, dyspepsia, neuralgia and rheumatism. We have a whole library full of testimonials. Sold by OSBURN & SHOEMAKER, Reno, Nev. nov25
